OUR GAS FIELD

MESSRS. Dingman and Colter, engineers from the department of Interior, Ottawa, were in town last Monday inspecting the several gas wells here.

After their inspection these experts expressed the opinion that all the concerns in the Medicine Hat and Redcliff gas field—whether private individuals or corporations—who are interested in, own and operate gas wells for domestic or industrial purposes, should form themselves into an association.

The object of this association would be that rules and regulations be drawn up, which would have for their object the conservation of the gas in this field.

With so many gas wells now in operation in this field and with the likelihood of more coming in, these experts appear to think there is grave danger of the supply being seriously impeded, with through carelessness in the operation of the wells and indifference in keeping them in proper condition. It is for this reason that the forming of an association to guard against that possibility, has been suggested.

Since millions of dollars are invested in this district for industries because of our gas; and since the very life of the community depends on it, no chances should be taken in allowing the field to be depleted or seriously interfered with through carelessness and indifference.

The suggestion of the experts should receive the prompt and serious consideration of all concerned.

COMING HOME TO ROOST

O justify its stand in advocating an export duty on wheat, the Medicine Hat News says in part, in an editorial in last Monday's edition:

"Taking the case in point, it is not apparent that if our Medicine Hat mills have to close grand and have to run three shifts a day, continuously, to handle the business, it is bound to follow that many more men and women will be employed and that the city's payroll will correspondingly increase, carrying with it, as a certain constant, an increasing population of satisfied workers, with steady employment, making for a more prosperous city with added conveniences and comforts in the home life."

The News says further:

"We would like our mills to enjoy an overflowing measure of prosperity, because if they do we have abounding assurance in the knowledge that under such circumstances 'the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker' will all get their share."

After reading these quotations one would be almost convinced that they were taken from speeches delivered by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen or G. B. Blackstock during the last Dominion election campaign, when these gentlemen were summing up the effect the Conservative party's policy regarding the tariff would have on the whole of Canada. And yet the Medicine Hat News bitterly opposed the candidature of Mr. Blackstock in this constituency, and the policy of Arthur Meighen in that election. An export duty is simply an other name for protection, or, as Premier King would say, "safeguarding" the interests of those concerned. This being the case it is only reasonable to assume that the News is a protectionist at heart, but something else at election time.

If protection for the mills of Medicine is a good thing for the mills, the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker in those other centres? We might go on further along this line but any more would lead to the old story about the "chickens coming home to roost," or that other one about the "ox being gored."

HON. R. B. BENNETT

HON. R. B. Bennett, of Calgary, appears to be gaining in popularity as the probable choice for the Conservative leadership at the big Winnipeg convention. From an all round standpoint, there are few men in Canada better fitted to fill this important position than the name Mr. Bennett. Because of his long and varied services as a public man he is well posted in the affairs of the country as a whole both past and present. Although much of his more mature life has been spent in the west, he was raised got his early education in the east. He is financially interested in both east and west and, naturally interested in the development, progress and prosperity of both. He has sufficient of this world's goods to make him independent of any temptation for graft even if he were so inclined. He is an able debater, a fearless fighter and a deep thinker.

Because of his long years of public service and the youth at which he entered politics, it would only be natural for him to have made enemies and mistakes but Mr. Bennett has made neither. The mellowing effect of his added years has not only held his old friends close to him but has also won over many of his one time political opponents. Mr. Bennett is a square shooter. He is a loyal son of Canada who considers it a privilege and a pleasure to sacrifice what he might easily devote to a life of ease and pleasure, for service to his country.

For these reasons the Conservative party would make no mistake in choosing him as their leader. He is just the stamp of a man who would be a credit as leader of any party and to the Dominion as a whole.

There was a time when the fatted calf attracted the prodigal home. Now two fatted calves attract him away from home.

The Toronto Globe suggests that if the Conservative convention had been a little earlier the delegates might have helped with the harvest. Probably the convention was delayed till Hon. Chas. Dunning got the Hudson's Bay Railroad in operation so that the delegates could return by Port Churchill and see some of the mountains of gold in that country about which Hon. Chas. has been talking so much lately.

Gordon Memorial was fortunate in being able to book an evening with Tom Copeland, the popular Scotch tenor, who comes here October 11th. Lloyd Colwell, a graduate of Redcliff school, who was killed by a number of years with his parents, died at the Central Alberta Sanatorium at Keith last Tuesday. The change in the C.P.R. timetable which went into effect last Sunday, made very little difference in the arrival of trains at this point. The following is the present schedule:

Eastbound
No. 2 at 7:12 a.m.

The next west bound fast train has been cancelled.

"I'll tell you why I'm going to buy a Westinghouse—"

"Looking back over the past 25 years, I found less than 20% of all automobile manufacturers have stood the test of time, and are in business today."

The radio industry is undergoing an identical process of elimination and I'm going to buy my radio from a manufacturer with many years' experience, unlimited resources and assured permanence in the business."

Westinghouse built the electrical apparatus that provides the profits for our business by keeping our machinery working year in and year out. They are pioneers in the business and have a wonderful reputation to maintain. They take no chances. Our company doesn't either—and neither will I—so you'll hear the latest Westinghouse model the next time you come up to the house."

We will gladly demonstrate the 1928 Westinghouse models and explain the many improvements that make them better.
